Meeting Program: Update of the Schools of Construction and the Student Chapters

Student teams from UNL, UNO, Southeast Community College and Iowa Western Community College will each be providing us with a snapshot look at their degree programs today. This will include a look at new technology in courses, new courses, a look at internships from their perspective and what brought the students to construction training in the first place. Also, each team will report back on student chapter activities.

You do not want to miss this meeting!
