

Jean,

We still have 24 (out of 39) Construction Management students who are looking for a summer internship experience. I was wondering if you could send an email to your members about this. Putting in a newsletter may be too late as the deadline for students to secure a position is April 7 (usually March 31 but need to extend this year due to the number still in need of a position and our need to make new contacts). Here's what I thought might be appropriate to send to members.

Interested in a Summer Construction Management Intern?

The University of Nebraska Construction Management program is currently working with companies to set up summer experiences. The program requires a 480 work hour internship experience that includes the following experiences. Internships begin in mid May and end in mid August.

- Management related experience with a residential/commercial/heavy-highway/industrial construction company
- Exposure to supervising or assisting with supervising people in an office or field setting
- Experience in estimating materials, time, OH&P
- Experience in scheduling projects / subcontractors
- Reviewing contract documents (plans-specifications) and communication with the owner or owner reps (architect, engineers)
- Attend bid openings/negotiations / progress meetings/preconstruction meetings of the company
- Interact and communicate with subcontractors/material suppliers
- Have at least one project dealing with safety on the site (e.g. work with OSHA, develop a safety program, conduct a safety audit)
- No more than 20% of the intern's time may be devoted to production/labor on the project site
