

The National Association of Women in Construction

Asks for your support for the 2008 Block Kids Building Contest

Each year NAWIC holds a contest designed to promote interest in future careers in the Construction Industry, as well as familiarize children with the construction process in a positive manner. Our goal is to make Elementary School children aware of the Construction Industry by providing them with a chance to use their imagination, creativity, and knowledge to build something today and possibly something for the future.

The contest is free to all participants and all participants receive prizes. The top four "Builders" receive Savings Bonds in the amount of $50.00.

The contest is being held Saturday, February 9, 2008 at IBEW (8946 "L" Street) starting at 10:00 a.m.
