

Construction Law Webinar Series

Jan. 22, 2014: *Claims Against Public Bodies. By failing to properly prepare and submit a claim, contractors can lose their right to bring a claim against a public entity. This program discusses governmental claim requirements, with an emphasis on the how, when, and to whom such claims should be submitted.

Feb. 12, 2014: *Getting Paid on Private Projects. This webinar focuses on the money and addresses how contractors (and subcontractors) can best protect themselves from the risk of non-payment. We will discuss the contractual and statutory protections that exist, how to best utilize those protections, and what steps to take when all else fails.

March 5, 2014: *Preventing and Defending Bond Claims. Nobody likes to pay twice, but unfortunately, this can happen. General contractors (and subcontractors) are sometimes required to post payment and performance bonds for a project. Occasionally, claims are asserted against those bonds by the project owner or by lower tier subcontractors or suppliers. This webinar will provide information concerning how best to head off claims before they happen, how to respond to potential claimants, and how to deal with the surety once a claim has been made.

March 19, 2014: *Managing Your Projects to Minimize Risk and Maximize Profit, Part 1.

This is part one of a two-part webinar that highlights good management practices. Whether you are a seasoned project manager or still a rookie, you should be able to walk away from this webinar with ideas on how to be more effective at managing projects. In addition, office managers and superintendents should also benefit from discussions of contracting, project documentation, communication, and scheduling.

April 2, 2014: *Managing Your Projects to Minimize Risk and Maximize Profit, Part 2. This is part two of a two-part webinar that highlights good management practices. Whether you are a seasoned project manager or still a rookie, you should be able to walk away from this webinar with ideas on how to be more effective at managing projects. In addition, office managers and superintendents should also benefit from discussions of contracting, project documentation, communication, and scheduling.

---

All Webinars:

1:30 p.m. - 2:15 p.m. (CDT)

Cost: $35.00 each

Visit <http://www.woodsaitken.com/events> to register for any of the webinars!

If you are a member of AGC-Nebraska Building Chapter or AGC-Nebraska Chapter (Heavy Highway), the chapter will cover your registration costs. Please contact your chapter to register as a benefit of your AGC membership.

AGC-Nebraska Building Chapter
Vicki Hancock
(402) 438-0400
agcnebuilders@windstream.net

AGC-Nebraska Chapter (Heavy Highway)
Kristan Crabtree-Irons
(402) 435-4355
kristan@agcne.org